Mining Students of ICFAI University undergo Training on First Aid

Ranchi , Apr 11, 2019

Training on First Aid was conducted at ICFAI University, Jharkhand for the Mining Engineering students of B.Tech and Diploma, by St John Ambulance Association.

As per the regulations of Directorate General of Mine Safety (DGMS), it is mandatory that all the Mining Students should be trained on First-Aid by approved faculty and possess certificate in First-Aid, before they are allowed to appear in the examination conducted by DGMS Board of Mining Examinations, which is essential for any recruitment in Mining Companies.

Welcoming the participants to the training, Prof Arvind Kumar, Associate Dean, Faculty of Science and Technology said, "Our University ensures that all the Mining Engineering students are provided the needed hands-on skills in Mining, by way of compulsory summer internship in mines for a minimum period of 6 months, spread over 3 years so that they become job ready, by the time they complete the course".

Congratulating the students for their performance during the First-Aid evaluation tests, Prof Umesh Kumar Sharma, former Director, DGMS and HOD, Mining Dept said, "ICFAI University is the only University in this Region, which has organized such a training program on First-Aid for the benefit of its students". "Our University also has installed Gas Testing Facility so that our Mining students are trained on gas testing and appear for the Gas Testing examination, conducted by DGMS, which is also essential for applying for jobs in mining companies." added Prof Sharma.
